Golfing Oregon 28 off the course

Warmer Weather Beckons

Bordering sunny California, Southern Oregon enjoys amazing weather. All year long, sunshine and balmy temperatures are common occurrences, of which visitors and locals take full advantage. With the Rogue River and Mt. Ashland alone, visitors are covered when it comes to recreation. But alas, the area truly has so much more to offer.

Your local wineries, of which there are more than you can possibly include in your visit. Southern Oregon is quickly joining the Willamette Valley as a nationally- and internationally-recognized region for fertile vineyards of grapes and amazing wines. While you are at it, enjoy locally produced cheeses and beer, world famous pears and even tempt your taste buds with award winning chocolate.

No visitors guide is complete without shopping and dining. A large number of tourists visit the Southern Oregon area every year, and both shopping and dining opportunities have exploded. Shopping opportunities range widely, from antique and boutique-style shops to large chains and outlet malls. A fantastic array of dining is available throughout the area, with each city offering casual and fine dining.

Bambu Restaurant and Wine Bar

Owners of this restaurant are longtime Southern Oregon residents and can be found most nights on site preparing delicious meals. The pair describes their restaurant as "a pan-Asian restaurant specializing in bringing flavors from the Pacific Rim to Southern Oregon. Our food is a marriage of regional Asian flavors with our own interpretation. We feature flavors from China, Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, Japan, Indonesia and the Philippines. Traditional and conventional are not words to describe our menu offerings." Bambu also offers a variety of wines sure to complement their dishes or to be enjoyed while sitting at the wine bar or on the wonderful patio.

» For the Wine Lover

RoxyAnn Winery

This heritage property, founded in 2002, was appointed to the National Historic Registry in 2008. Partly because of buildings like the historic Hillcrest Barn, carefully restored and preserved inside and out, RoxyAnn Winery has become a destination. Their tasting room offers a selection of RoxyAnn Winery's own award-winning wines as well as locally produced cheeses, breads, fresh vegetables, wines and other artisan foods. Along with their own award-winning range of wines, RoxyAnn has partnered with several other vineyards in the Rogue Valley to produce wine and jointly raise awareness of the vineyards and winemakers of Southern Oregon. Medford, 541-776-2315 www.roxyann.com

Paschal Winery

Tucked in the lush and sloping hills surrounding the community of Talent, Paschal Winery has quietly and boldly made a name for itself. Typical tasting-room events offer at least eight wines to try and plenty of comfortable seating alongside the tasting room's massive picture windows. Talent, 541-535-7957 www.paschalwinery.com

Spangler Vineyards

Nestled in the rolling hills and river valleys of the Land of Umpqua, Spangler Vineyards capitalizes on the region's warm weather and unique microclimates to produce mainly Bordeaux-varietal wines. Roseburg, 541-679-9654 www.spanglervineyards.com
